UMLAUF LAW INDORSSED.

Temperance Forces Urge Council to Adopt It as the Best.

Councilman Umlauf's liquor ordinance is getting more indorsement. Between the Umlauf and the Dabney plan, as the substitute has been called, the temperance elements have been divided. The Umlauf plan, which limits the number of saloons to about one for each one thousand of population, while the other makes 150 the minimum. There are other points of difference.

At the meeting of the Ministers' Association, an organization composed of all denominations, the Umlauf plan was adopted.

ADVANCE GUARD IS ARRIVING

Great Rush of Visitors Will Come Monday—Some of the Houses Taken.

Advance messengers of the great host of Episcopalians, who will visit Richmond next week, are already arriving. Several ladies who will take active part in the meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary are in the city, and agents of those who have taken houses are putting them in order for the coming of the owners.

The rush of visitors will come on Monday, as several thousand churchmen, including nearly all the bishops of the church, are now assembled in Washington city at the Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. This session closes on Sunday afternoon with a big open-air meeting, and on Monday all roads will lead to Richmond, the railroads planning to operate special Pullman trains for the visitors, who will be inclined to come early this year, as many have expressed a desire to witness the impressive ceremony of the consecration of Holy Trinity Church, which takes place on Tuesday morning, as well as to get themselves comfortably fixed in Richmond before the opening of the convention proper.

Goods for Mr. Morgan Arrive.

Two express carloads of goods consigned to Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, in charge of his steward, arrived yesterday morning, and were transferred to the Rutherford house, at Second and Grace Streets. With the party came a large quantity of goods, including a large quantity of the table supplies direct from New York. In the shipment which arrived yesterday were two large automobiles, one a touring car, and the other a White steam car of lighter build. Both were taken in charge by the Motor Transfer Company and removed to the garage. A member of this company, who is in charge of this concern applied to the Chief of Police for permits for the use of the cars, which were numbered and listed in the name of their owner, Mr. J. P. Morgan.

It is expected that Mr. Morgan's private secretary will arrive in Richmond to-day to supervise every detail of the arrangements before the Morgan party comes on Monday. Mr. Morgan has notified the committee on arrangements that he will have as his guests the following: Bishop Doane, of Albany; Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts; and Bishop Greer, of Colorado; and Bishop Potter, of New York.

Other Residences Taken.

Besides the Morgan establishment, eight or ten other residences have been rented to members of the convention, who will be in the city for the day. An agent of Bishop Potter arrived in Richmond last night, and will have everything in order for his coming when he comes from Washington on Monday. Bishop Potter, who is one of the most distinguished laymen in the church, has taken the residence of Mr. R. H. Lindsey, at the corner of Belvidere and Franklin Streets. He wrote the committee some time ago that he would be accompanied by six English men-servants, for whom he has rented quarters at the Rutherford house. He also has been reserved at a boarding stable for five driving horses for the bishop.

Rt. Rev. C. C. Grafton, Bishop of Fond du Lac, a prominent Western bishop, has rented the L. C. Younger house, at 1004 West Franklin Street, and will entertain there in handsome style, as has been his custom at former conventions.

Mr. George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, an active layman in the church, has rented the L. C. Younger house, at 1004 West Franklin Street, and will entertain there in handsome style, as has been his custom at former conventions.

MANY NOTED SPEAKERS FOR BIG MEETINGS IN RICHMOND

Report on Program to Be Submitted by Committee of Which Bishop Doane is the Chairman—Great Popular Gatherings in City Auditorium.

Missionary interests will command a large part of the attention of both delegates and visitors to the Episcopal General Convention. The extension of the work at home and abroad is after all the most important object of the joint sessions of the two houses, though there may be spirited debates on doctrinal and legal matters. So pre-eminently is mission work that the Boston convention of three years ago made provision for a special committee to prepare a program of missionary topics for the consideration of the joint sessions of the two houses in Richmond, and to make arrangements for holding several public mass-meetings during the term of the convention, which proposes a full schedule of meetings with special speakers, will be presented to a joint session of the two houses at the general convention on Friday, October 11th, for their approval.

The committee of which Bishop Doane, of Albany, is chairman, will submit the following report: "The committee appointed in accordance with canonical requirements by the General Convention of 1904, to arrange with the missionary bishops and others to address joint sessions of the two houses of the next following General Convention upon the subjects of missions and opportunities for church extension in the several fields, and also to arrange for the holding of public missionary mass-meetings during the term of the General Convention, in consultation with the local committee of arrangements, respectfully reports as follows:

1. That the senior bishop present shall preside, assisted by the president of the House of Deputies.

2. That the secretary of the House of Deputies shall be secretary of these joint sessions, assisted by the secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

3. That the seats assigned to deputies shall be occupied only by deputies, with respect to the conduct of business, the committee recommends:

Throat Coughs

Ask your doctor about these throat coughs. He will tell you how deceptive they are. A tickling in the throat often means serious trouble ahead. GOV. SWANSON TO DECIDE CASE TO-DAY

Will Say Whether or Not Alleged Murderer Shall Hang.

PLEASED WITH RECENT TRIP

Governor Swanson was in his office yesterday, having returned with Mrs. Swanson from Atlantic City, where they have been spending a few days. The Governor delivered an address before the American Bankers' Association on Thursday, and Mrs. Swanson paid a visit of a few days to her sister, Mrs. Henry Bohmer, of Edgewood. N. J., joining her husband later at the famous resort. The Governor was in the spirits, and said he greatly enjoyed his trip. He was in his office early and worked until late in the afternoon, disposing of his mail and receiving visitors. Captain R. S. Parks, of Page, was a caller, and some of the Governor's old constituents from far off Patrick came in to pay their respects.

The Governor will during to-day take up the case of the late Peter, of Carroll county, who is praying for a commutation of sentence. Peter is alleged to have brutally murdered a negro near Hillsville, and for this a jury fixed his punishment at death on the gallows. The poor wretch asks the Governor to give him a life sentence instead. His lawyers will present the case in the morning, and a conclusion will probably be reached by night.

The Governor and Mrs. Swanson will leave on Monday for the Jamestown Exposition, where on Friday they will participate in Pennsylvania Day exercises, tendering a reception to the Keystone State contingent at the Virginia Hotel. Mrs. Swanson will spend to-day in Petersburg, visiting friends and attending the horse show.

At the Capitol Notes.

Work in the Library is going on smoothly under the new administration, and the assistant librarian and new cataloguer have taken readily to their duties. Their arrival has relieved the librarian, Mrs. W. H. Davis, of general work, and has enabled him to devote himself more particularly to the executive department.

The State Insurance Commissioner, has gone to Philadelphia on business connected with his department. He will probably be absent for several days.

MRS. ROYALL INJURED.

Fell from Street Car and Was Painfully Injured.

Mrs. Anna L. Royall, of 300 South Third Street, fell from a car at Third and Main Streets yesterday morning about 11:15 o'clock, and was painfully injured, being very much shaken up and sustaining a severe cut and bruise over the eye, which rendered her unconscious.

Mrs. Royall was taken immediately to the residence of Miss M. M. Gardner, 218 East Main Street, and Drs. Cary and Linden Street, who were called, attended to her. She regained consciousness. As soon as she recovered sufficiently to make her name known, her son, Mr. J. Royall, was called and she was removed to her home.

Following the accident, Mrs. Royall suffered from a severe nervous headache from which she had but slightly recovered late yesterday afternoon. An examination made by the doctors yesterday showed that no bones were broken.

It was stated yesterday that the car was at a standstill, and that the conductor was assisting Mrs. Royall to alight when she apparently suffered a spell of dizziness and fell.

Orpheus Turns to Bachelors.

Orpheus Kewey, a rather well-dressed colored boy, giving his age as nineteen and stating that he worked as an extra hand in the pantry at Ruggers' restaurant, was arrested last night by Policeman Nease on the charge of being drunk on the street.

Kewey was not so drunk when he reached the second station, but he could not make plausible explanations of how it all happened. He will have a chance to repeat them to Justice Crutcher this morning.

A Street Brawl.

Arrested Traylor and Joseph Glusti were cleared last night on a charge of fighting on the street. They were bailed for their appearance in the Police Court this morning.
